

HEALTH & SAFETY RULES

RESPONSIBILITY: Line management is responsible for Health & Safety implementation, communication and compliance.

TRAINING: Employees, managers and contractors must be trained to work safely and manage Health & Safety in their area.

EVERYONE: Everyone working for Knauf Australia, including Contractors, must respect Health & Safety rules.

IMPROVEMENT: The business must have an annualized Health & Safety improvement plan as part of the Performance Plan.

ORGANIZATION: The business must have a Health & Safety committee, composed of managers and relevant experts and partners.

COMPLIANCE: The business must comply with local and legislated Health & Safety standards.

REPORTING: All incidents and accidents must be reported at the appropriate level, investigated and learnings shared.

TRANSPARENCY: Safety results must be visibly communicated to everyone.

MEASUREMENT: The business must be regularly audited against legislated Health & Safety and Management Systems and Standards.

SUPPORT: Health & Safety Organization must be resourced and trained to provide support to the line management.

CONDITION OF EMPLOYMENT: Compliance with these rules is a condition of employment and a criteria for career development.